Climaxing nine days of camping at the Scout Hut in Wilson-Ledbetter Park, the Cameron Girl Scouts, those who have assisted with the camp, and local council members are enjoying a barbecue tonight at 8:30 through the courtesy of E. Vogelsang.

The camp was divided into three groups: The Senior group, under their leader Mrs. Richard Bush, had their camp on July 5, 6 and 7. There were seven girls who enjoyed the camping. Misses Irene O'Neill and Loretta Polansky assisted Mrs. Bush.

The Intermediate group camped on July 8, 9 and 10, and was under the supervision of the Intermediate leaders, Mrs. A. E. Matula and Mrs. John Henry Wilson. There were 26 girls present for this camp, and assistants included Miss Lucille Stedman, Mary Randolph and Mesdames C. W. Bradbury, Dorothy Harden, Pauline Wiggs and Alvin Nolte.

WAR PRISONERS ARE AVAILABLE TO FARMS

Prisoners of war may be used on Milam county farms to relieve the labor shortage if conditions under which they are worked are met, it was announced here Tuesday by J. W. Stufflebeme, county agent.

Mr. Stufflebeme and L. Van Perkins, the Chamer of Commerce, were at the prison camp at Hearne recently to discuss the situation with Col. Tucker, commanding the camp.

Union labor restrictions seem to have been interposed in the regulations laid down by the government for the use of prisoners. So far no union card has been required of German prisoners, nor have they been admited to the ranks of organized labor. The farmer must pay each prisoner $1.50 per day for from 7 to 8 hours work. He must defray transportation or furnish the same to and from the camp. The prisoners are not allowed to remain away from the camp longer than 10 hours a day. Time required in transportation would cut down working time.

Heavy guard restrictions are also imposed. This type of labor is not experienced and would be worth little to farmers.

If you as a farmer are interested you can contact Mr. Stufflebeme.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stoebner and Mrs. H. Stoebner of Burlington were Cameron visitors Wednesday.

Comedy-Musical to Open at the Cameron Theatre Thursday

Don Ameche, Janet Blair and Jack Oakie are starred in Columbia's spectacular new musical, "Something to Shout About," which opens Thursday at the Cameron Theatre to introduce something new in the way of sparkling comedy, captivating singing and inspired dancing. According to Hollywood report, the new film is one of the season's outstanding extravaganzas; a mere recital of its players and credit is sufficient proof thereof!

In addition to its star trio, with Miss Blair fresh from her triumphal appearance as "My Sister Eileen," the new film features William Gaxton, Broadway's king of musical comedy; Cobina Wright, Jr., social registerite songstress, and Hazel Scott, musical idol of New York's Cafe Society and radio's millions of swing fans.

Not satisfied with such an array of talent, producer-director Gregory Ratoff obtained for the new film the divers services of a canine comedy troups, "The Bricklayers," one of vaudeville's most outstanding acts; ballet star David Lichine, who acted as choreographer and dancer, and Cole Porter, who penned the smash song hits of the picture, including: "You'd Be So Nice to Come Home To," "I Always Knew," "Hasta Luego," "Lotus Bloom," "Something to Shout About" and "Through Thick and Thin."

Dollar and Cents Price Ceilings is Brought to Milam

Maximum prices retail stores may charge in Milam county, effective Tuesday, July 13, on some 300 food items, were announced by the Office of Price Administration through J. M. Boehner, information chairman for the Ration Board here.

Charts of maximum prices to be charged can now be found in all the retail stores. Under this chart prices may be lower and will be in some cases, but can not be made higher without OPA authority.

Mr. Boehner said this dollar and cents ceiling price schedule will not alter greatly the general level of ceiling prices but is a step in the drive to hold the line on the cost of living.

The new chart places about 80 per cent of the family food budget under understandable ceilings. Shopping will be greatly simplified and housewives may know in advance what an item is going to cost here before she goes to the store.

Miss Velma Fae Kirk of Louisiana is home on her vacation visiting friends and relatives around Cameron.

In North Africa

PFC. ERCEL E. ODOM

Pfc. Ercel E. Odom took part in the bloody campaign that ousted the Axis armies from North Africa and resulted in the capture of some 300,000 German and Italian prisoners.

In a letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Odom of Ad Hali, he told of his enjoyable voyage over and that he had landed safely in North Africa.

He entered the service in February 1941 and was sent to Camp Bowie, Brownwood. From Texas he went to Camp Edwards in Massachusetts It was presumed he left from that area for the North African battle front. Pfc. Odom was born and reared at Ad Hall and one among a large number of young men from that community in the fighting service.

GERMANS IN BAD WAY ON RUSSIAN FRONT

A possible collapse of Axis opposition in Sicily was forecast Wednesday by the unprecedented speed with which the Allies are advancing and based upon sensational battle developments.

The British 8th Army under General Montgomery is within sight of Mt. Aetna. Allied armies are converging on the Italians from three directions.

An entire Italian division the 266th was captured. This means 15 to 18 thousand officers and men. In addition several thousand other prisoners were taken.

Reports still persisted that General Rommel of North African fame had been killed when his plane was shot out of the air by Allied airmen. The report, which was not confirmed, said that Rommel was on his way to Sicily to take command when he was killed.

Warships of the United States and Britain were shelling the costal cities of Sicily.

The Rome and Berlin radios admited that the Axis armies are being thrown back. The Allied attacks are proceeding with great power and speed.

Axis airmen are almost totally absent from the Sicilian skies.

The Russian army is counter attacking. The Germans are holding on desperately. It appeared that the Germans will not be able to wage another offensive war.

Viewed from unmistakable angles the Axis appeared groggy. It was the beginning of the end.

The RAF lost 20 bombers Tuesday night over Germany in another large scale raid.

In the South Pacific the Japs were being subjected to rentless attack.

All was quite on the Washington front.

J. R. Nichols, Phamacist Mate, after 4 years in the United States Navy and one of three brothers in the service, has returned home for a rest.

HEALTH PRECAUTIONS STOPS SCOUT CAMP

Clyde C. Hays, Chairman of the the Health and Safety Committee for the Heart O' Texas Council, Boy Scouts of America, announces the cancellation of the camp scheduled for the week of July 11-17, at the Boy Scout Camp Tehuaya, six miles south of Belton.

While there is no epidemic at the present time in this area, Mr. Mays feels it advisable to take this precaution in the attempt to lessen the danger of possible spread of infantile paralysis by keeping Scouts out of groups at all times. This decision is made in co-operation with recommendations made by Dr. Paul Werner, director of the Waco-McLennan County Health Unit.

Decisions on the camping already scheduled for the following weeks will be made at a later date. If no further manifestations of the disease appear, Mr. Hays says, it will considered safe to continue the camping as planned.

TWO INJURED IN CAR CRASH NEAR CAMERON

Four niggers were involved Tuesday night in a near fatal car wreck on the river road east of the city when Mrs. George Black and Mrs. Joe Robinson of Hanover community, were injured.

Williard Richards and Johnny Lee Bell, Rockdale niggers, are in the county jail, placed there around midnight by Deputy Sheriff Carl Black, following the wreck.

W. H. Staton, superintendent of the O. J. Thomas high school in Cameron, paid a fine in Justice court early Tuesday for reckless driving.

Ray Chandler, a Rockdale nigger woman, a companion of Staten, was to be placed under arrest later in the day, according to Deputy Sheriff Black. It was not indicated what charges, if any would be filed against her.

Mrs. George Black and Mrs. Joe Robinson were returning to their homes from a motion picture theatre in Cameron.

Deputy Sheriff Black said the wreck occured when the car driven by Richards and Bell, chasing the car drive by Staton, crashed into the Black machine. The impact threw the Dodge sedan driven by Mrs. Black across the road into a ditch.

Mrs. Black is in the Newton Memorial Hospital, the extent of her injuries not yet determined. Mrs. Robinson who sustained several broken ribs and other injuries, is in the Cameron Hospital.

Criminal District Attorney, Ed. Gunn, said he would file charges later on in the day or possibly Wednesday when he had obtained a report on the injuries sustained by the two white women who were victims of the mad chase down the highway engaged in by the niggers.

According to Deputy Sheriff Black who arrested Staton at his home, and the other niggers at the scene of the wreck, the trouble started in Rockdale.

Staton had been observed by Richards and Bell to pick up Ray Sanders in Rockdale. They got in their car and followed the Staton machine. According to Sheriff Black who questioned Staton, the colored school superintendent feared he might be beaten over the woman and tried to run away from the Rockdale men. They followed him out of Rockdale and on the highway to Cameron overtook the Staton car several times and bumped into it.

At the time of the wreck the Rockdale niggers tried to intercept the Staton machine at a point on the highway where the car of Mrs. Black was passing and the wreck resulted. Staton and the woman escaped and their whereabouts were not known for some time.

Sheriff Black said that Staton in a statement to him, said he took the woman back to Rockdale and came on back to Cameron. Richards and Bell whose car was badly wrecked were arrested at the scene of the crash.

Staton in a recital to Deputy Sheriff Black, said he had taken the woman to Calvert on the previous night.

Reuben Wise of Hanover who was also driving east on the highway, witnessed the wreck. He drove back to the city and the Milam Hotel where S. A. Cottle called Deputy Sheriff Black who reached the scene of the wreck about 11:15 p. m. An ambulance from the Coleman Funeral Home here brought the injured to Cameron hospitals.

Pvt. Lovely Jackson, Ohio nigger, stationed at Camp Hood, has been turned over to military authorities, facing charges of assault with intent to murder, following a knife attack on two Cameron niggers about 4:30 p. m. Monday.

Criminal District Attorney Ed. Gunn said trial of military personnel in war times in state courts is denied except by permission of army authorities.

Evidence in the case as obtained by Mr. Gunn in the investigation will be turned over to the military authorities.

Jackson attacked Stanton Brown, a Cameron nigger and Bernice Jordon, a Cameron niggeress, in the home of the latter. According to

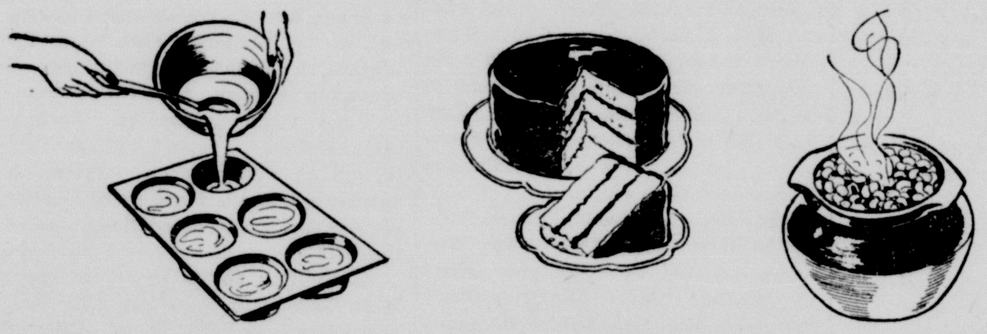
Meat-Drippings Make Fine-flavored Dishes



Use fats carefully and thriftily; sell left-over fats to the government to make ammunition

Frying:

Use drippings or rendered fats from pork, beef, or chicken. Fry chicken in bacon drippings.

Shortening:

Here are some of the dishes that thrive on home-rendered meat fats: Chocolate cakes and Spice cakes (pork, beef, or chicken). Biscuits and Muffins (pork). Molasses Cookies, Gingerbread and Meat Pie Pastry (beef). Delicate Pastry (chicken).

Seasoning:

Creole Sauce for cabbage or turnips (beef drippings). Meat Sauces, Meat Stuffings, Scalloped Potatoes, Croquettes and Vegetables (chicken). Split Pea Soup, Potato Soup, Vegetables and Dried Beans (pork, especially ham drippings).

Your butcher pays you the government price for your salvaged fats.

To Measure Victory Fats

Use two tablespoons less per cup than of ordinary fat called for.

To Clarify Fats:

Use potato slices to "take up the slack." To one cup of fat, use half of medium-sized potato cut in one-quarter-inch slices, added to the cool fat. Heat gradually until fat stops bubbling. Strain through cheesecloth or a fine sieve. If strained and stored in refrigerator, and NOT SCORCHED, fat can be clarified again, even after frying fish. (SCORCHED fat is not good enough for dynamite, even.) Keep in gas refrigerator.

To Render Raw Fats:

Cut suet and other fats in small pieces. Boil in water. Let chill, and lift the white cake to store in refrigerator.

HEAVY FIGHTING ON SICILY IS REPORTED

Heavy fighting has broken out in the interior of Sicily where units of the United Nations invasion army have contacted the enemy.

Little opposition was encountered in the early stages of the invasion on Saturday morning. As anticipated the enemy is making a stand somewhere along the planes of central Sicily.

The German radio has said that the defense of Sicily would be left to the Italians.

General Eisenhower, in command of the British and American army of invasion, has made every preparation which includes readiness to fight a major engagement for the island which lies only 2 miles off the Italian boot toe.

Parachute troops were the first to invade Sicily. In a broadcast early Monday fear was expressed these troops may have been killed but are said to have accomplished the task of engaging the enemy for 3 hours until heavy landings were made on the 100 mile beach front of the island.

Whatever forces are on Sicily have been cut off from the Italian mainland by a invasion in Eastern Sicily by the British.

The invasion was made with 2000 ships and is said to be the largest scale operation in the history of warfare.

The Allies have undisputed mastery of the air and the sea.

Warnings were issued to the people of the Allied countries to be prepared for enormous sacrifices. Heavy fighting was in progress Monday as the Allied army pushed on into the interior.

Italian prisoners were coming in Saturday and Sunday in considerable numbers. They wanted cigarettes and something to eat and asked to be allowed to unload ships. They seemed anxious to assist in the invasion.

Attacks on the Japs were being stepped up in the Munda area.

The German attack in Russia was reported broken up by the Reds who continue to make fantastic claims of dead Nazi, destroyed tanks and planes.

The armies in Sicily had taken three Axis airports in the interior.

All was quiet on the Russian front.

The ceremony took place in the home of the bride in Cameron and was performed by Rev. J. Coy Williams of Rosebud, former pastor of the First Methodist church in Cameron. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Nabours.

The room in which the ceremony was performed was lovely in lilacs and red roses. The bride was given in marriage by her father, Homer Nabours, County Clerk.

Rev. Bob L. Pool, pastor of the Frist Methodist church in Cameron, had a part in performance of the ceremony, assisting Rev. Williams.

HEAVY BOND AGAINST DALLAS ZOOT SUITER

A peace bond of $20,000 was placed against Ruperto Garcia, 17 by Justice of the Peace W. L. Sterrett Thursday in a move to break up activities of youths of Mexician descent resembling those of zoot suit gangs in Los Angeles.

Concha Jiminez, 14, appeared before Justice Sterrett Thursday with Robert Benavides, her attorney, and swore out a peace bond on Garcia.

The girls eyes were almost closed as a result of an attack on her by the zoot suiters, she told Sterrett. She said that Garcia was the only youth in a gang of six that she recognized. City police said that the girl was unable to talk for several days after the attack last week, and when she had recovered sufficiently she gave the name of one of her assailants.

Benavides told Sterrett that the girl saw six youths wearing zoot suits beating a soldier of Mexican descent from Camp Hawze. She told the youths they were a bunch of cowards. They attacked her, she said, when she threatened to call the police.

Garcia is in the city jail, police said. He will be examined in an effort to learn the names of his companions in the attack on the soldier and the girl.

Chaplain Devises Library For Use at the Front

Front line library service is being furnished soldiers at an outpost in the Pacific under a unique system devised by Chaplain Lloyd W. Halverson of Covina, Calif. Chaplain Halverson found that when the men were on duty in isolated dugouts and remote field sectors, ready access to books was not always possible.

"If the soldiers can't get to the libraries maintained by the Red Cross and Army Special Services," reasoned Chaplain Halverson, "let's get the library to the soldiers." His suggestion reached his home community, and the loyalty and generosity of the citizens of Covina made the "Chaplain's Outpost Library" a reality.

It comprises 50 water-tight boxes built to hold five or six books apiece, and bearing circular insignia marked with the identity of the donor city and the chaplain's name. Each is packed with new editions of the latest and best books, carefully selected from a variety of subjects on the basis of the men's reading interests. The books have been treated to resist insect attacks, and are stamped with the circular insignia. A regular library card is included.

The selections are made not only to offer the men reading material, but with a view to improving their reading habits and adding to their knowledge. When the boxes arrive at gun positions and field emplacements they contain western stories, mystery stories, good fiction, outstanding non-fiction, and occasional choices from the fields of humor and poetry.

Lexington Famous Name In U. S. Naval History

An 18-gun sloop, the Lexington, was one of the important ships in the fleet of Commodore Perry when he made his historic visit to Japan in 1854, thus setting up a curious chain of events leading to the Battle of the Coral Sea and the gallant end of another Lexington, the "Queen of the Flat-Tops."

The first Lexington was a brig of 16 guns, the first Continental ship ready for the sea. The second ship to bear the name was the same ship which sailed under the command of Commodore Perry in 1854.

Third ship to be called Lexington was an iron-clad river steamer of seven guns which served with some distinction during the Civil war.

Next came the ill-fated but valiant Lexington, the aircraft carrier sunk in the Coral sea engagement. The newest Lexington is also an aircraft carrier. She was launched late in September of 1942. Perhaps, navy men predict, this new Lexington may also visit Japan!

Transplant Quinine

Cinchona tree seeds snatched from under the noses of the Japanese in the Philippines after the fall of Bataan provide the foundation for development of the quinine industry in the Western hemisphere. Col. Arthur F. Fischer, who spent many years in the Philippines raising the cinchona tree, making quinine and fighting malaria, brought 2,000,000 of the precious seeds back to the United States after his escape by plane from Mindanao.

More than 100,000 seedlings, carefully nurtured by the department of agriculture in its experimental greenhouses, are ready for transplanting to the rich soil of Costa Rica to help the Americas grow their own malaria drugs. Representatives of Costa Rica and the United States have entered into an agreement under which 10,000 acres of the trees will be planted. Specialists of the United States board of economic warfare have studied the climate and soil of the Central American republic. Colonel Fischer believes Costa Rica possesses all of the potentialities necessary to revive the industry in the hemisphere on a grand scale.

New Flush Valves

A vacuum breaker for flush valves made of transparent plastic so that the operation of the unit can be visually inspected is the latest in heating. Inasmuch as the purpose of the vacuum breaker is to protect water supplies against the hazards of reverse flow or back-siphonage, the fact that the outer shell is transparent is an advantage because it facilitates inspection for the purpose of checking on the operation of the unit. Thus the development of a wartime substitute has brought with it more positive protection to health. The new vacuum breaker with its transparent outer shell is used in connection with a war model flush valve in which the content of critical copper has been reduced from six pounds to less than four ounces. The new valve is made principally of malleable iron and plastics.

China Fights Illiteracy

No small share of credit for China's heroic six-year defense against Japan can be attributed, in part, to her campaign against illiteracy. Started in 1930 with establishment of the Mass Education movement, this campaign received new impetus at the outbreak of war. Today, many active projects directed towards the destruction of illiteracy are carried on even in the most distant and isolated regions of western China. Agents of progress are not only government workers, but high school and college students —and even children.

Washing Machines Work Best if Properly Loaded

Mechanical washing machines often are blamed for excessive wear on clothing but the real cause usually is incorrect operation of the washer rather than any mechanical faults of the machine. Ruth Beard, home management specialist, Ohio State university, says the two most common faults in using a washer are incorrect loads of clothing and wrong timing.

Most mechanical washers are sold with a recommendation for the average load to be washed at one time. Busy homemakers either overload or underload the machine and these mistakes cause trouble. Light loads permit the washer to agitate the clothes more than was intended and excessive wear occurs.

Heavy loads tax the machine and permit too little agitation. Overloaded motors may be ruined, and sluggish action of the washer prevents efficient laundering. Homemakers can counteract part of the bad effects of light loads by shortening the time of machine operation, but there is no good remedy for overloads.

Washing machines should not be left running while the homemaker answers the telephone or the door bell. Long absences might result in excessive wear on the clothing being laundered. The only accurate way of timing a mechanical washer is to run it until the clothing is clean.

Are Women Bum Drivers? Army Chieftain Says No!

It took a World war to bring the woman driver, maligned for her bumble-headed recklessness ever since the rattling age of the model-T, into her own.

"Women drivers are more careful than men," says Lieut. Raymond Notz who ought to know. Lieutenant Notz is the officer in charge of the Sixth service command garage at 1037 West Adams street, Chicago, and his army vehicles, from tiny jeep to lumbering truck, are operated by civilian women chauffeurs.

"I haven't found one complaint against the girls who drive the trucks," said Lieutenant Notz about the civilian members of his command who have taken over the duties of able-bodied soldiers, releasing them for duty in the battle zones. "Right now the caution of the careful driver is a form of patriotism. We, of the army transportation corps, have a rubber conservation program. A careful driver who doesn't have to stop suddenly is taking care of his tires. The girls do this instinctively."

"They're good workers," he said, "and they have pride in the job they do. We have an inspection every morning, stressing the condition of the tires. They examine their tires and report every blemish and little scar. Like everything else, tires last longer with good care. And these girls really handle their tires with care."

Cut Paper Anniversaries

Despite an all-time marriage record in the United States in 1942, appropriate first anniversary gifts may fall to a new low! Couples celebrating the first anniversary—universally known as the "Paper Anniversary"—traditionally receive complete table sets in paper, tender anniversary parties and dinners in paper—featuring paper cups, containers, dishes, napkins and table cloths. Because paper cups are so essential to the war effort, on both fighting and war production fronts, many types are virtually unobtainable for First Anniversary purposes, it was pointed out. More than 1,800,000 marriages were solemnized in this country in 1942, topping the previous high of 1,679,000 marriages during 1941.

Plastic From Redwood

A new plastic made from California redwood is being used in the manufacture of steering wheels for trucks, busses, tractors, and other mobile equipment. A San Francisco lumber company developed the idea of using waste pieces—slab sides, end pieces, and bark, all previously burned—to produce a pulp which is baled and shipped in carload lots to a company in the East where 7,000 of the finished redwood plastic steering wheels are turned out in an eight-hour working shift. A steel wire skeleton is used to pre-form the plastic compound in a cold mold. Six minutes of hot mold compression at 350 degrees F. are required to complete the molding operations. The wheel is then buffed to remove mold marks, and painted.

Boneless Beef

Only steer and heifer carcasses may be accepted for boning and packaging as fresh boneless beef for our armed forces. These carcasses must grade Good or Commercial. The weight range for the steer carcasses is 450 to 1,100 pounds and for heifer carcasses from 450 to 900 pounds. The average beef carcass boned for army boneless beef contracts will yield 70 per cent of lean meat and approximately 17 per cent of bone and 13 per cent of fat. This 70 per cent of lean meat refers to the boneless meat as accepted and packed. The hindquarters usually bone out 65 to 70 per cent of lean meat. the forequarters 70 to 75 per cent. About 13 per cent of the hindquarter is bone and about 21 per cent of the forequarter is bone.

HOME CLUB RALLY TO BE HELD JULY 15TH

The Milam County Home Demonstration Council met in Cameron, in the Chamber of Commerce building.

The meeting was called to order by Miss Nora Kohring, chairman; Mrs Monroe White led the recreation with a game "Places I Go."

Roll was called by Mrs. A. P. Brannon. Five club presidents, five delegates and six visitors were present.

The chairman of the following committees made their report: Mrs. W. T. Lawler reported that programs were working out all right so far this year. Mrs. Monroe White gave finance report and made plans for raising money for expenses of delegates to T. H. D. A. meeting. Mrs. W. M. Cox reported exhibit plans for Rally days to be held in Rockdale, July 7th and Cameron July 15th.

The exhibit will show three methods of preserving food—by use of the pressure cooker, the hot water bath, and by drying. The kind that may safely be used for each kind of food will be explained.

Mrs. Marvin Charles reported two demonstrations in new communities given by Miss Porter, thereby adding two stars to the county map. All expansion committees of each club are asked to report to the Council secretary, Mrs. A. P. Brannon, all work in their club in time for her to compile and have ready to report at each rally day.

The Council voted to donate $1.10 to the district fund to buy a bond for Mrs. G. A. Rogas, outgoing vice president of district 8 of the T. H. D. A

The Council adjourned, and then reconvened to hold an election meeting. Mrs. Nathan Smith was appointed election judge and Mrs. E. H. Foster and Mrs. Monroe White tellers. Ballots were cast for the election of two delegates to the State Home Demonstration Association in Dallas, August 17, 18 and 19. Mesdames Marvin Charles and W. W. Cox were elected delegates. Mrs. D. E. McDaniel and Miss Dora Dittmar alternates.

HEALTH NOTICE

Numerous cases of infantile paralysis have been reported in many sections of the State. To date there have been no cases reported in this area. However, we feel that all due precautions should be taken in an effort to keep our community free from this disease. Therefore, the following measures are suggested to the citizens, particularly the parents of Cameron and vicinity:

1. Every effort should be made to eliminate the house fly and mosquitoes and destroy their breeding places. Remove all uncovered garbage promptly. Keep all cow, hog and stock lots as clean and sanitary as possible.

2. Be sure that safe water is used.

3. All raw foods should be washed thoroughly and protected from flies and spoilage. Make every effort to secure a safe milk supply.

4. Observe all practical rules of personal hygiene and sanitation around the home.

5. Avoid over exertion of the children during the hot weather. In this connection, do not permit children to stay in swimming pool over one hour. The local swimming pool is operating in a very efficient manner from a standpoint of cleanliness and chlorination, and we do not feel it necessary to close at this time. But to be sure that all parents know and approve of their children swimming, a written permit from parents will be required until further notice before any child under 15 years of age will be admitted.

The precautions are urged by the City officials of Cameron and the Milam-Robertson County Health Unit as purely preventive measures and not with the intent to cause any undue alarm.

Leland Green, Mayor
T. E. Crump,
City Health Officer.

Deputy Sheriff Carl Black who made the arrest, Jackson was in the home of Bernice Jordon when Brown entered. The fight followed and Mr. Black said it resulted from a quarrel over the woman.

Brown was cut across the neck, the juglar vein being partially severed. Other wounds were made on Brown about the body and stomach. He is in a critical condition. The woman was slashed across the back of the neck and after treatment has returned to her home.

Several months ago Bernice Jordon was tried here for a knife attack on another nigger woman. This was the first trouble reported here from nigger soldiers visiting the city from camp Hood.

Things We Want To Say

Punch pulling reached a new high Saturday when President Roosevelt pledged America to liberate the Italian people from the German yoke.

In a letter to the Pope in Rome, the President assured the head of the Catholic world that America now considers its role is to liberate the Italians. The President assured the Pope of his regrets that war had come to the Italian mainland.

If news casts can be relied upon and the President is quoted correctly, a grievous error has been made.

Mussolini and the Italian people paved the way for the Hitler scourge in Europe by embarking upon a campaign of agression in North Africa and in the Balkans. The Italians were the first people outside the Japs, to overun a neighbor nation in modern times.

The practice of holding up national leaders as the object of retribution while excusing the miserable subjects they command, is a kind of shadow boxing politicians like best in their gymnastics.

Twenty-five years ago the Germans and the Turks escaped punishment when the politicians singled out their leaders, not one of whom was ever brought to justice.

Italy is an agressor nation, signed the tri-parte alliance and therefore became a party to the attack on Pearl Harbor and the murder of American airmen who were prisoners of war in Japan. Italy stabbed fallen France took part in the bombing of London and encouraged the Japs to make war on us. Italy commited the first crime in this war of agression by an attack of extreme brutality upon both Ethiopia and Albania. She is guilty of first attacking Greece and Yugoslavia.

The President must not spare the rod too significantly lest he forsake the high sounding wrath voiced on December 7, 1941, when all the free people of earth felt the urge to fight these Italian, German and Japanese threats.

Recently a Catholic was asked whether he thought Rome should be spared. His reply was to propound that question to the Bishop at Coventry. We think it was a good answer.

Even in the midst of battle, the lives of our boys expended in the noblest resolve known to man, politics raises the scepter of appeasement.

Let's be on with this war. Let's make it tough and bitter and blasting

If there is left not one stone upon top the other in the so called Eternal City of Rome why should it be a crime, for do we not curse the bastards who leveled Warsaw and Athens?

Peroxide Has Many Uses For Army and Civilians

Hydrogen peroxide, familiar to most women chiefly as a hair bleach and a means of removing stains from household linens, should be known also for its far greater use in bleaching civilian and military textiles, and for other essential applications.

Textiles such as cotton, wool, rayon, silk, or linen are bleached with hydrogen peroxide. Cotton cloth for nurses' uniforms, surgical gauze, sheets, pillow cases, and handkerchiefs—a drab gray when it slides from the looms—is turned a permanent snow-white by peroxide bleaching. Wool, which today goes into soldiers' uniforms and other military uses, is treated with the chemical before olive-drab dyeing.

In addition to textiles, a variety of materials are bleached by this chemical—fur, skin, straw, wood, buttons, fats, and hair. A vital military use is in the manufacture of synthetic rubber.

Popular blonde furniture is made so by the action of hydrogen peroxide on wood veneer. Casein for light-colored plastic articles is often peroxide-bleached. Cow and goat hair for household articles are made light enough so they can be dyed to desired colors. Straw for summer hats is bleached with peroxide, and rabbit fur for felt hats is treated with the same liquid.

No Drug Expurges Malaria Spores From Bloodstreams

No drug, including quinine, is "entirely satisfactory" in the treatment of malaria. The drug has not yet been developed which will promptly stamp out the two forms of parasite present in the bloodstream of a man suffering from the virulent tropical form of malaria.

The asexual spores introduced into the blood by the bite of an infected anopheles mosquito cause a periodic rupture of the red blood corpuscles, which produces paroxysms of high fever in the patient. The frequency of the fevered periods determines whether the type of malaria is mild or virulent.

In addition, sexual spores develop in the patient's bloodstream, with the result that even after he has recovered, he may be bitten by an uninfected mosquito, which in turn becomes infected and bites another victim, thus spreading the disease by a "vicious circle of carriers." The patient may also experience periodic relapses at intervals of several months and occasionally years.

Extract Gum From Bush

The United States may find another source of natural rubber in Chilte, a bush-like tree which apparently is found only in western Mexico. Chilte also is known as Sinoloa Gum. Normally, it is impractical to produce the gum in competition with natural rubber from the Hevea tree. Now, however, rubber specialists see an opportunity for a market in the United States to supplement the hemisphere's increasing production of Hevea, Castilloa and guayule rubber.

Chilte was produced and used during and immediately following the First World war. If the plans work out, Mexico again will be contributing this type of rubber for war needs. It has a high resin content and is considered particularly adaptable for mixture with synthetic rubber. There are many varieties of the bush or small tree which produces the gum now being sought in western Mexico. The trees are tapped for the gum, just as Hevea and Castilloa trees are tapped.

March to Guns

Today, as never before, troops advancing into battle "march to the sound of the guns." On all fronts artillery is thundering, cannon of calibers ranging from the 20 mm. aircraft weapon to 14-inch railway and 16-inch coast defense guns. Airborne troops are landed and roll their deadly little 37 mm.'s from the planes. Paratroopers float down along with the chutes carrying parts of their 75 mm. howitzers, assemble them and go into action. Mountain artillerymen strip their 75 mm. pack howitzers from the backs of pack mules and emplace them on the heights. Horse artillery gallops along with the cavalry. Infantry mortars lob their finned shells in high arcs into the enemy trenches. Field artillery trucks halt, 105-mm. howitzers are uncoupled, laid and open fire. The swift self-propelled guns of the tank destroyers and the self-propelled howitzers and guns, which are the artillery of armored divisions, speed on to the field of battle.

Malaria Present in U. S.

Not confined entirely to tropical countries, malaria is endemic in 36 of the United States, and in 11 states it constitutes a major public health problem. "The only states apparently free of indigenous malaria today are the New England states, West Virginia, North Dakota, South Dakota, Utah, Wyoming, Montana, and Nevada," according to a recent declaration approved by the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Although exact statistics are not obtainable, an estimated two to four million cases a year are normal, concentrated among the South Atlantic and Gulf states and reaching up along the lower Mississippi valley. A million cases were reported in 1936.

Pea Market Opens At Milano; High Prices Being Paid

The Blackeye Pea, famous Texas food, is being harvested in this area.

Hudson (Doc) Woods has opened the market at Milano and is paying high prices for dry, cured peas.

The thresher will be operated three days a week, Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

The acreage this year is large enough to mean a big money factor in the sandy land areas of the county.

The tomato crop was a profitable one. Continued dry weather has affected the sweet potato crop and much acreage intended to be put in peanuts will not be planted.

Producers of peas are advised to contact Woods for the market at Milano.

Only A Liberated France Will Be Given Recognition

The United States will recognize no French government as long as the people of France are under German domination, President Roosevelt said in Washington Friday.

The statement was made at a time when General Giraud, commander of French forces in North Africa, is in the United States.

The statement, if adheared to, should put both Giraud and DeGaulle on notice that neither can take over France with American sanction.

You call it Bread . . . your ancestors would have called it Cake

Your daily bread is nutrition in one of its finest and most appetizing forms—and today it saves ration points. We Americans can be grateful that our country produces an abundance of this perfect 'staff of life'.

We can be grateful, too, to science for the greatly improved quality of our daily bread. It has been tremendously enriched. Its texture is finer, its appearance and flavor more inviting.

Did you ever wonder how many millions of pounds of yeast are required each year to leaven the nation's bread? Did you know that yeast must be absolutely fresh when it reaches the baker? Thanks to a network of specialized delivery services plus modern refrigeration, bakers in even remote parts of America get their yeast fresh and on time.

The Baker's Yeast Division of Anheuser-Busch supplies bakers with yeast for a large part of the nation's bread. Now nearly 15 percent of our entire output goes to the Army. This service to civilian bakers and our armed forces resulted from applying to food the knowledge gained from years of laboratory work in producing the world-famous Budweiser.

The navy department announced Thursday that numerically superior naval forces fell upon the Japs off Rendova Island and sank 11 Japanese warships. It was the first time anything American has been numerically superior. Thus far we have had to fight greatly outnumbered.

JAPS FAST LOSING IN JUNGLE BATTLE

United States ground forces are within two miles of the Japanese air base of Munda, it was announced from the headquarters of General Douglas MacArthur in New Gunena Friday.

The Japanese forces are fighting desperately to ward off defeat.

The Japs are retreating in Burma.

While the war in the South Pacific was going well for the Americans and Australians the situation on the Russian front was not clear.

Claims by the Red Army staff that the Germans have lost 40,000 men killed and some two thousand tanks and planes, was regarded as fantastic.

Fear was held that the Germans are making progress. The Reds admit that a wedge has been driven into their lines. The Germans say that this attack is the real offensive for the summer.

The Herald believes the Germans may have set up a fake offensive to make the Allies tip their hands or the German Gestapo has found a reason to attack in force. Russia may be short on vital war materials, since most of our equipment has been going to the British Isles where no fighting has yet been undertaken.

The Russian front is 160 miles long and the figthing appears to be intense enough to warrant an all out effort to break through the Russian defenses before Orel and Belgorod.

The Germans have broken through the Red lines in two places.

The Allied invasion of the continent was as far from a reality as it was a month ago.

The United Nations air force lost 11 planes on the Sicilian front while shooting down 25 Axis planes.

The British lost 8 bombers in another raid on Cologne.

HEAVY OPPOSITION IS MET IN SICILY FIGHT

Growing opposition Tuesday indicated that the Axis intend to contest every foot of Sicilian soil but it was equally apparent that the Allies are determined to make a quick conquest of the island.

At noon Tuesday the armies of the United States and Britain had penetrated as far as 30 miles inside Sicily. Heavy opposition was encountered.

General Montgomery is leading his British 8th Army in a mad dash up the eastern coast of the island and on Monday the city of Syracuse fell to the British.

The American forces under General George Patton were fighting a strategically important engagement with the enemy in the southern and western portion of the island.

Violent naval action was reported Tuesday along the invasion coast.

Over in the Solomons Islands the Japs were losing another naval battle to the Americans. From 4 to 6 warships have been sunk or damaged in the past two days. Munda was expected to fall at any time.

The Nazi summer offensive has failed in Russia according to the Reds.

Army Captain Solves Inspection Problem

PINE BLUFF, ARK.—An army captain at the arsenal has solved the problem of having things shipshape for inspection.

The arsenal's public relations department said the captain loaded everything he didn't have room for on a truck and kept it cruising about the reservation until the inspection was completed.

Arms Production Sets New Records

50 High Explosive Shells a Minute Is Output.

WASHINGTON.—Fifty shells every minute, day and night—or a total of 1,932,000 high explosive projectiles—were turned out by American ordnance manufacturers in February, Robert T. Patterson, undersecretary of war, reported.

At the same time, Mr. Patterson said, the shops and arsenals produced 419,000 bombs of all sizes, up to the blockbusters which have been shattering enemy-occupied industrial regions. He estimated that that was enough for raids in which 15,000 bombs could be dropped each night for nearly a month.

In addition, he said in reporting that armament production is 300 per cent higher than a year ago, industry "hung up a new record" for small arms ammunition in February. That record consisted of 1,244,000,000 cartridges in calibers .30, .45 and .50, or more than 500 every second during the month.

Machine gun and tank production also is jumping, Mr. Patterson said. In January and February 150,000 machine guns and 134,000 sub-machine guns were turned out, while 5,000 tanks were rolling off assembly lines. This compared with production of 132,000 machine guns of all calibers in the first World war.

Other production figures for the January-February period included: 28,000 army trucks, 2,000 anti-tank guns; 5,000,000 pairs of marching shoes, and in February alone, 7,800 weapon-bearing combat vehicles.

Mr. Patterson noted that the 1943 production program called for $57,000,000,000 worth of arms, ammunition, supplies and installations.

"We will meet that figure," he said.

Master Sergeant Still Is Active at Age of 60

EPHRATA, WASH.—A battlefield with bursting shells and chattering machine guns is home to 60-year-old Master Sergt. Luis C. de Pineres y Toore Viejas, who bears the scars of more than a score of battles and the decorations of several armies.

His long and colorful military career is hardly equaled by any other member of the United States armed forces.

And to show he is still a fighter at 60, Sergeant de Pineres has passed a rigid physical examination qualifying him for service overseas.

The dapper Spaniard was born into an aristocratic Colombian family, but fled to the United States when a revolt in which he participated failed.

His medals include the Croix de Guerre with two palms, the Order of the Purple Heart, the good conduct medal, the Mexican campaign medal, the Colombian Croix de Boyain and—.

"I don't wear the rest," he explained, "because people stare and I feel like a store window dummy."

General Pershing decorated him three times in World War I and he was kissed by Marshal Foche, commander of the French forces.

In the Colombian army he rose to the rank of a lieutenant colonel. He became a captain after six years' service with the French Foreign Legion and then served four years with the Spanish army. He has been a member of the United States army for 17 years.

British Bombs to Carry 'Air Mail' to the Reich

LONDON.—Air mail service for private messages from the British people to the Germans will be established this summer, but the messages will not be very readable on arrival. They will be pasted on the sides of 2,000 heavy bombs.

The "Wings for Victory" committee directing the war-savings drive announced that persons buying war stamps would have an opportunity to paste them on bombs, canceling the stamps with their names or a short message. They will be unloaded on Germany after the drive ends in June.

The stamp purchasers will realize no return beyond the satisfaction of their messages.

Two Build Tank, Buy It; They'll Take It to Front

LONDON.—Radio Moscow reported on the all-out war effort of Ivan Bokyo and his wife. Bokyo and his wife were workers in an armament factory, building tanks. After helping to build one, they used their life savings to buy it.

Radio Moscow said they had received Premier Stalin's permission to take their tank to the front and fight it.

EISENHOWER SAYS IT IS EUROPEAN INVASION

Sicily, largest of the outer buffer states to the Italian mainland was invaded early Saturday by combined forces under General Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The attack was made simultaneously from three directions indicating that a large force of men were involved.

The Canadians were the ones to spearhead the attack which was preceded by a violent bombardment from sea and air. Warships, including battleships went into action in the dark hours before dawn to light up the sea with their fire as Axis positions were raked miles ashore.

Overhead planes driven by Americans, Britishers, Australians, Canadians, Poles and Czechs, laid down the first blast to herald what General Eisenhower said was the invasion of Europe.

General Eisenhower in announcing the attack said the battle of North Africa is over and the battle for the liberation of Europe is begun.

Details of the fighting were meagre. Announcements came from Washington. Bitter opposition was encountered. The Allied soldiers moved through strong defenses and the attack was proceeding well, said a noon broadcast.

Berlin said the attack was under way but expressed the belief that no invasion of the mainland of Europe will occur this year.

Sicily, under constant air attack for two months, is less than 300 miles from Rome. From the Italian boot toe Sicily is a scant 60 miles. Once in the hands of the Allies the invasion of Italy will be a matter of choice.

London was silent but observers there indicated that an attack might now be made direct upon the mainland of France. Other attacks were considered likely on other Mediterranean Islands.

The Rome radio was silent. So far as known the Italian people had not learned of the invasion of Sicily up to noon Saturday.

Mussolini whom Winston Churchill called a jackal after his attack on France, was besieged at last, his empire gone and his home land at the mercy of an army sufficient in size to accomplish his defeat at will.

From Moscow came news the Red Army welcomed the attack as a gift to every Soviet soldier. The Russians were careful to say that no second front is involved. According to General Eisenhower this is the second front though not as bold as might have been had the British found strength to attack across the channel.

More details on the battle may come this evening or late tonight.
